Western Philosophy

Semester-II

Major paper-II [MJ-2]

Credit-04

Full mark (75+25) = 100

03 Hours

COURSE OBJECTIVE :- This course traces the origins of Philosophy in the Western tradition in the thinkers of Ancient Greece. It begins with the Pre-Socratic natural Philosophers like Thales and Anaximander. Then it moves on to Heraclitus and Parmenides of Elea. Then, it discusses the counter position of Sophists and Socrates. Finally, there is discussion on Plato's theory of virtue and Forms.

COURSE LEARNING OUTCOMES :-

After successful completion of this course, students will have the knowledge of early Greek Philosophy. This course facilitates a comprehension of Western Philosophy. A comprehensive understanding of it is like a foundation course in the Classics. Philosophy is both fascinating and frustrating as it deals with the most difficult questions of life which have always bewildered us. Philosophers have been relentlessly working to quench this thirst of the mankind by expounding theories which have broadened the base of human understanding. The paper is designed to appreciate the profound ideas that sprung from the minds of the great Philosophers of the Greek modern western world.
